Notes from Your Teachers

Homework will begin this week

Daily math and reading comprehension homework will be given weekly and is due on Friday mornings. Homework is intended to be short and quick and covers skills already covered in class. If your child is having trouble with completing each day's work quickly, please let your teacher know. This is not to cause stress at home as we feel outside play and time spent with family very important!

Please know that any classwork that is not finished will be sent home to be completed and must be returned the following day. Students should read for 20 minutes nightly and practice their basic addition & subtraction math facts.

What We're Learning
